

Objective: To examine the U.S. involvement in Yugoslavia, Grenada, Panama, and the Middle East peace process. USHC 8.5

Civil War in Yugoslavia

Former Yugoslavia

• At the conclusion of the war, Pres. Clinton sent 20,000 U.S. troops to Bosnia in order to help keep the peace.

Invasion of Grenada

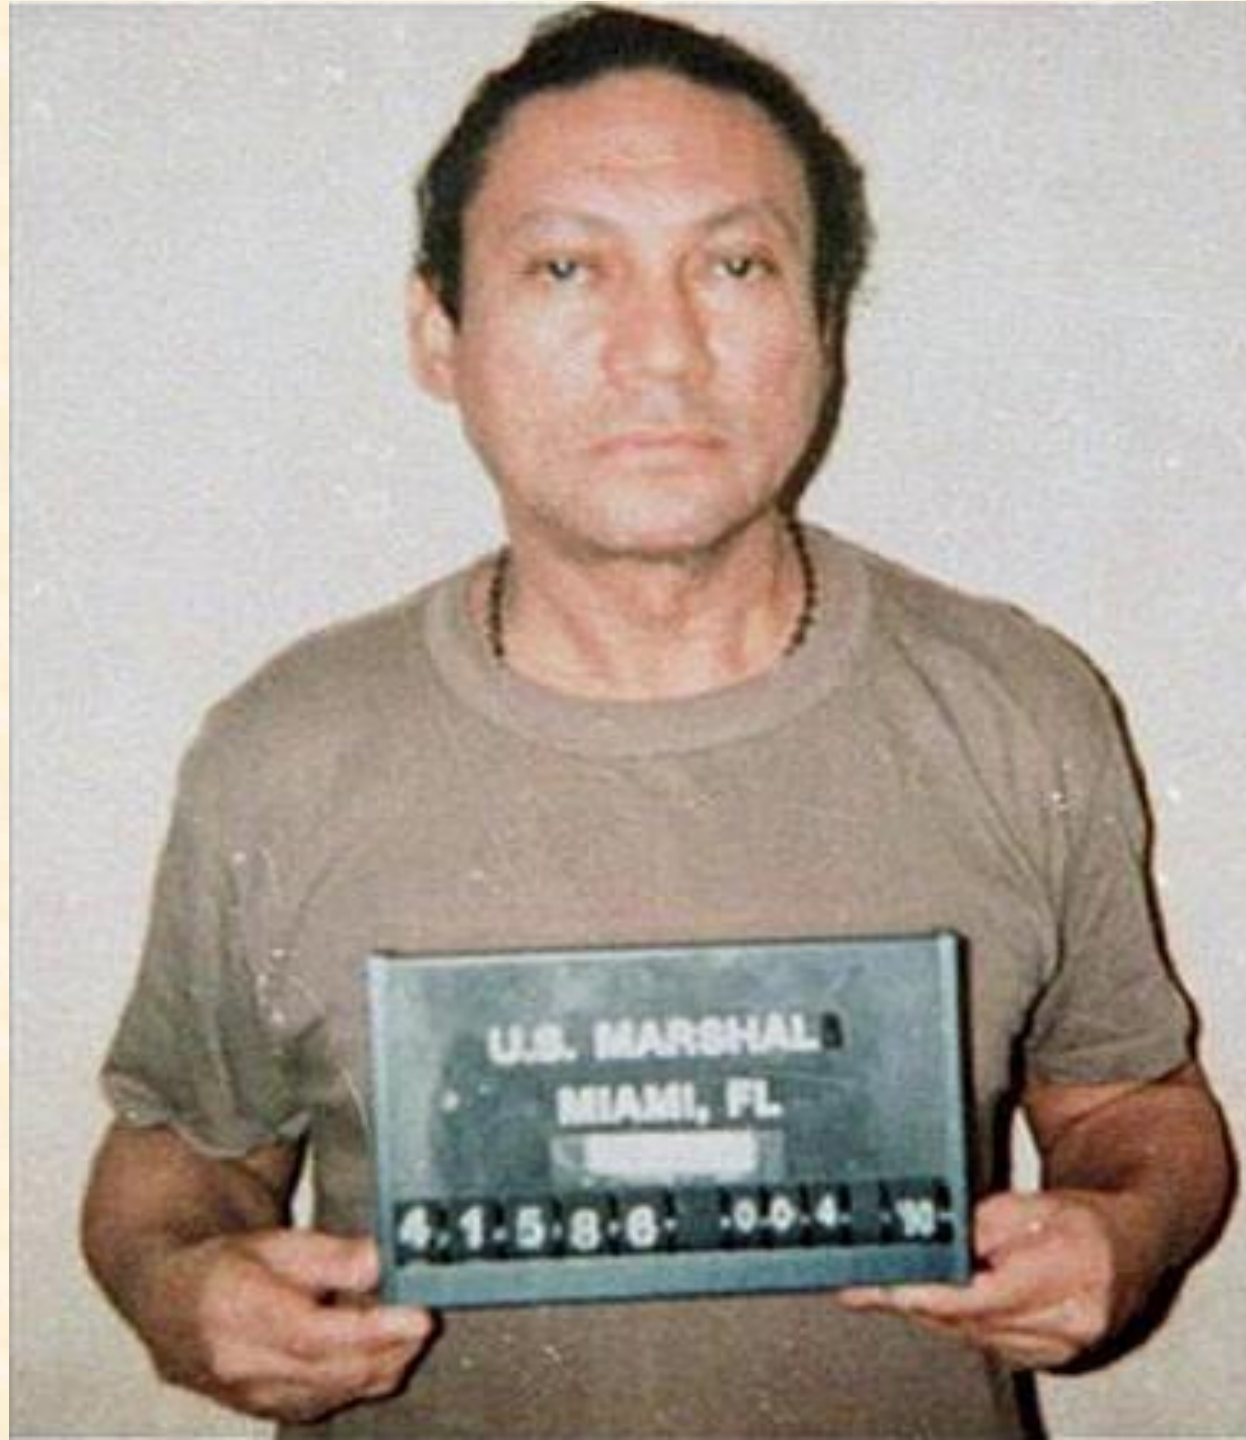

- Communist extremists seized power in this small island nation with the help of Cuba.
- In 1983, U.S. troops seized control of the island and stayed until the people elected a government friendly to the U.S.

Clashes in Panama

- Panamanian leader Manuel Noriega was accused by the U.S. of helping South American drug lords smuggle cocaine into the U.S.

• In 1989, U.S. troops were sent to Panama. Noriega was arrested and brought back to the U.S. where he stood trial and was imprisoned.

Meeting at Camp David

· In 1977, President Jimmy Carter met with Egyptian President Anwar el-Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin at Camp David, Maryland.

· The leaders signed the Camp David Accords in 1979, bringing peace between Egypt and Israel.